

LITERARY ITEMS.

M. Gustave Barbe, for many years one of the most indefatigable publishers of Paris, is dead. He published a great many plays, but was best known by his cheap publications of Paul de Kock's Piganiel Lebrun, Auguste Ricard's Scotti's, Mary's, Maurice Reid's, and Fenimore Cooper's novels. Though only 63 years old, he had been a publisher above 40 years.

The French Academy have elected M. Nisard member of the Committee of the Historical Dictionary of the French Language, in the place of the late M. Victor Cousin, and they have appointed a committee (formed of MM. Ste-Brete, Vitet, Albert de Broglie, Prevost-Paradol, and Cuvier Fleury) to prepare a new edition of the ordinary Dictionary of the French Language.
